Blackie Pioneer Homer Wilderman Dies At 77

A respected member of the Blackie community, Homer T. Wilderman died on January 30 at the age of 77, following a lengthy illnes.

HOMER T. WILDERMAN

Born in Illinois, he came to Blackie with his parents in 1906 and farmed in this district all his life. Mr. Wilderman's farm home, called "Old Glory" in recognition of his American forebears, was a half-way house in the early days and the pioneer tradition of hospitality was honored throughout his lifetime. A quiet and unassuming man, Homer Wilderman was known for his honesty, his kindly nature, his hospitality whereby his door was never locked against any comer, and his integrity.

He was a long-time member of Blackie IOOF and Masonic lodges.

He is survived by wife Lillian; two sons, Walter Homer and Wayne Evans; two brothers, Raymond in Edmonton and Ross of Calgary; four nephews and five nieces.

Services were conducted by the Rev. Wm. Morrison in Calgary on February 2 when pallbearers were Earle Malmberg, Harold Kelly, Jack Thurber, Cecil Kumlin, Robert Bateman and James Stier, all the sons and grandsons of early associates in the Blackie community. Following cremation Mr. Wilderman's ashes were placed at the foot of his late mother's grave in Highwood cemetery on Feb. 4th.

"Start Of Something Big..."

A Woodworking 30 project has embarked County Central High School students on what may be the most ambitious vocational scheme in the province. Under the guidance of instructor H. Rempel the seven-member Grade 12 shop class has a two-room house under construction and this has become a project involving the vocational areas of shop, home economics and business education.

The completed house will have the following fixtures: living room with dining room and attached kitchenette area (12'x16'), bedroom (8'x12'), modern bathroom (8'x8').

Upon completion the versatile house is to be sold with the net proceeds becoming the foundation for a new goal for students, the Mickey McKay Scholarship.

Additional funds for the scholarship will come from an organized fund raising campaign which will be developed by the merchandising class under teacher Ed Tokarchik. In this regard active support by the home economics staff, students and also the C.C.H.S. Booster Club has been assured.

The new Mickey McKay scholarship will be so named in appreciation of the former school committee chairman's diligent efforts to secure the high standards of education in the county. All students completing at least grade 12 diploma and wishing to go on to either vocational or academic training will be eligible.

Among fund raising ideas already in the minds of students are teas in Vulcan and other towns, a monster car wash, a sales carnival and handicraft sales.

With actual building construction comprising the major part of Woodworking 30, the idea of this project came into being last fall, was approved by school authorities and work commenced after Christmas. Pre-fabbed inside the shop room, the component parts were taken outside for assembly about three weeks ago and progress now depends on weather conditions.

Perhaps most enthusiastic about the project is the shop class itself. Mr. Rempel explains, "The construction is all done by the boys and any advice comes by way of discussions on right and wrong ways of dealing with any particular building problem." So wrapped up in the house are the students that spare periods often find them at work on it and apparently one student who was home from school through illness, stole back one afternoon long enough to see how the house was progressing.

Ken Houlton New President

Capacity Crowd At Annual Chamber of Commerce Meeting

A capacity crowd of about 200 was in attendance at the annual luncheon-meeting of the Vulcan District Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday, Feb. 9, when Kenneth Houlton was inducted into office as 1966 president of the Chamber. The luncheon meeting was held in the Vulcan Lodge Hall in conjunction with the annual agricultural short course and the swearing-in ceremony was conducted by Mayor G. C. Ness. Mr. Houlton is agricultural supervisor for the County of Vulcan.

Other officers for the ensuing year are: Allan McAskile, first vice-president; Richard Hammer, second vice-president; David Mitchell, secretary-treasurer.

Committee chairmen are: Gordon Brown and Bill Richardson, development; Wes Fulton, highways and roads; Earl Ericksen and Orville Roe, membership; Al Dakin, business and retail; David Schierman, agriculture; Wally Taylor, finance; Peter Pickersgill, publicity.

Retiring president Mel Jordan reviewed the activities of the C of C during the past year, which included efforts to have wheat quotas raised, including the holding of a meeting which was attended by a representative of the Canadian Wheat Board. Some of the other activities of the C of C were efforts to get improved service by both the CPR and Greyhound Bus Lines, support of the Town of Vulcan brief opposing the closing of the CPR station here, canvassing of the business places in support of the County Band, participation in the entertainment of the Youth Travel students from Hamilton, letters to Premier Manning and MLA Ray Speaker in support of daylight saving time, sponsorship of the 4-H public speaking contest and of a small business book-keeping course and co-sponsorship of a home building and planning school and the annual agricultural short course.

Two local men who have brought honor and favorable publicity to the Vulcan area in the past year were presented with engraved plaques by R. C. R. Munro, editor of The Vulcan Advocate, on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce. The awards were made to Harold Hansen of Ensign, who for the second successive year was named World Flax King at the Toronto Royal Winter Fair, and to J. Lundy Findlay, whose work in first aid over a period of 29 years was recognized last year when he was invested as a Serving Brother of the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem. An honorarium of $100 was also presented to Mr. Hansen by A. W. Goettel of the field crops branch of the department of agriculture on behalf of the provincial government.

KENNETH HOULTON

New president of the Vulcan District Chamber of Commerce is Kenneth Houlton. Mr. Houlton is agricultural supervisor for the County of Vulcan.

Main speaker at the annual meeting was Jim Fetterly of Investors Syndicate, Calgary, whose talk is reported elsewhere on this page.

Shower Honors Daphne McFadden

A miscellaneous bridal shower was held at the home of Mrs. Barbara McKay, Calgary on Feb. 3, in honor of Miss Daphne McFadden.

The room was tastefully decorated with pink streamers and bows. The bride-to-be was presented with a beautifully decorated basket of gifts and assisted in opening the gifts by her mother, Mrs. Olive McFadden and Mrs. Barbara McKay.

Daphne expressed her thanks and appreciation for the many lovely gifts. Contests were won by Mrs. Leslie Walker, Miss Linda Gillespie and Verna Konkin.

Guest Speaker Says . . .

Chamber of Commerce Is Voice of the Community

Regional manager of Investors Syndicate, Calgary, and well known in Vulcan, Jim Fetterly was guest speaker at the annual luncheon meeting of the Vulcan District Chamber of Commerce, held Wednesday, Feb. 9, in the Lodge Hall.

Speaking to an audience of about 200, Mr. Fetterly urged businessmen and farmers both to take an active interest in the Chamber of Commerce, where they could work together to benefit the community. "Get involved," he said, "if you don't do anything you don't get into trouble but you get nothing done."

In dealing with the senior government, the Chamber of Commerce is recognized as the voice of the community, said the speaker, and its representations carry more weight and prestige than those of many other organizations.

Aside from representing the feelings of the community on various questions, what can a Chamber of Commerce do in a community the size of Vulcan, asked the speaker? Its big job, at the local level, is to see that the community is provided with all necessary services, Mr. Fetterly said. If business is to remain at home to a great extent, then the common necessary services must be available. If a person has to go elsewhere for just one item because it is not available in his town, it is quite likely he will end up buying many other things that he would normally have bought at home.

Vulcan is fortunate, said the speaker, in being a reasonable distance away from the nearest cities. Merchants in towns close to a city are competing directly in service and price with large-volume city businesses. The one advantage a small town merchant has is that he generally knows his customers, can greet them by name, and can take a personal interest in seeing that they get what they want and are completely satisfied.

Health Nurse Addresses W.I. On "Nutrition"

Meeting at the home of Mrs. Sam White, the Good Deeds Women's Institute was attended by 13 members and three visitors.

To begin the afternoon, local district health nurse, Miss Marie Deshornais showed an excellent film on nutrition, the main theme pertaining to the agricultural field of food production and the appalling lack in many heavily-populated areas. Miss Desharnais followed the film with a reminder of the standard daily food requirements and a summary of the many services rendered by the district health units. Mrs. George Dingwall, health convener for the Good Deeds graciously thanked Miss Desharnais and presented her with a small gift in appreciation for her very worthwhile, thought-provoking program.

With Mrs. Bruce White in the presidents' chair the business meeting began with a rest room report given by Mrs. Bob Hutton. New heating equipment is needed, but whether or not donations will be required is not yet settled. Mrs. Clarence Brown gave her monthly treasurer's report. The possibility of collecting useable used clothing for the Indians was suggested and will be investigated by Mrs. Clarence Brown who will report on her findings at the March meeting. No delegate to the district convention, soon to be held in Calgary, was appointed, but several members are hoping to be able to attend and if so one will then act as delegate.

Roll call was answered with each member bringing a home-made apron and these were exchanged. The tea raffle was won by Mrs. Clarence Brown.

Reid Hill W.I. Names Delegates

Mrs. Fred Schuler as hostess entertained the February meeting of the Reid Hill WI, with Mrs. Jack Marshall as co-hostess. The punctuality draw was won by Mrs. Clifford Love, after which Mrs. C. L. Kuykendall, the newly elected president opened the meeting. She was assisted by the secretary, Mrs. Jack Marshall and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Love.

Correspondence was light and dealt with matters previously discussed. Mrs. Kuykendall and Mrs. E. Deal were named to attend the District 4 conference to be held in Calgary February 24 and 25.

It was decided to observe birthdays of members with a small remembrance rather than drawing for Sunshine Friends.

Roll call was answered with "An Unexpected Kindness Shown Me" and was answered by ten members and one guest.

A most interesting paper on "The Indian Problem Today" was given by Mrs. Frieda McRoberts and much appreciated.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ed Kehr, Thursday, March 10.

A delicious hot lunch, served by the hostesses, concluded the afternoon's program.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Feb. 7th, 1966
Vulcan, Alta.

Editor, The Advocate.
Dear Sir:

I don't know if anyone will be interested in reading what I am going to say, but reading about the situation in the Carmangay hospital does get one thinking and wondering where is it all going to end.

Firing a person after 25 years of service seems a serious step to take. It states she was a trouble-maker; if that is the reason why wasn't she fired long ago. No one turns into a trouble-maker overnight.

I personally do not know Mrs. Minty or the administrator of the Carmangay hospital but having being in the hospital service for a good many years I do know a little about what goes on in hospitals.

Why not start by looking into administration of small hospitals. Some administrators have had no special training for the job and have no, or very little knowledge of how to manage a hospital, and some of them are just not big enough to take it and they go over-board. In no time they can turn a well-run hospital into a miserable place, everything they look at has to be changed. The first thing they like to do is get rid of the old staff as it is to hard to change them and if you get on the wrong side of the administrator one might just as well get out or work under very strained conditions.

What about the hospital board? are they not interested, or do they only listen to one side, do they ever really look into what goes on, or have they been on the hospital board for so long and can't be bothered any more? If that is the case would it not be a good idea to appoint a new board?

A Former Hospital Worker.

In a town such as Vulcan, the centre of a large area, services such as are provided by hospitals, doctors, dentist, veterinarian, lawyer, druggists, liquor store, printing office, etc., must be available in addition to the usual types of retail establishments if business is to remain at home.

Each businessman, said Mr. Fetterly, should ask himself these questions: 1) Are my customers satisfied? and 2) how can I improve my service? If the atmosphere in your store is one of friendliness and helpfulness you will keep your customers coming back. But if your attitude or that of your staff is poor you will drive customers away just as poor service will drive them away.

If the right atmosphere is found in every business place it will do much to make your town known as a good place in which to shop, stated the speaker.

Before concluding his talk, which was well received by an attentive audience, Mr. Fetterly said that the matter of the proposed recreation centre was one which should be examined carefully by all concerned. He suggested that those who feel that the price in dollars is too high should ask themselves what the price of not having such a recreation centre is going to be, in terms of juvenile delinquency and lack of proper facilities for town and district functions. He expressed the thought that Vulcan has shown much progress the past few years in such respects as new businesses, new homes and new water system and that the need for better recreational facilities merits serious consideration.

COUNTY CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL HI-LITES

Another big weekend at CCHS is over and by the sound of things not too many people are sorry to see it go. On the contrary, they just wish the aching muscles, blisters and drowsy eyes had gone with it.

It is very doubtful however if there will be any complaints from the rinks of Robert Kananen, Brian Adams or Grant Wolfe. These were the rinks that placed first in the three respective events of the County Central high school mixed bonspiel. Undoubtedly their thoughts are all on their trophies.

There was a total of 32 rinks competing for four sets of prizes in each of three events. The final games of the three-day bonspiel were played at 8:00 Saturday night and the results were as follows: 1st Event— Robert Kananen over David Baldwin, 2nd Event— Brian Adams over Richard McNiven, 3rd Event— Grant Wolfe over Rob Ness.

The Kananen rink consisted of Robert Kananen, skip, Hazel Kananen, third, Richard Hegland, second and Wendy McFarland, lead. The Adams rink had Brian Adams at skip, Linda Howe at third, Brian Kranzler at second, and Sandy Howe at lead. The third event saw the Wolfe rink as the winners with Grant Wolfe, skip, Merna Vaage, third, Lorne Mueller, second, and Kathy McNiven, lead. All prizes were presented at a small dance following the finals.

County League basketball saw the CCHS teams hosting Milo for their second meeting of the season. The Central girls defeated the Milo girls to split their two meetings at one victory for each team. The Central boys, however, lost their second game to the strong Milo boys. This week the County teams will host Lomond.

Last Wednesday night the Central senior girls travelled to High River for the first game of their two game total point playoffs. High River, with a fantastically enthusiastic crowd to support them, defeated the CCHS team 27 to 25. They now will have a two-point edge going into the second game of the series next week. This Wednesday night the senior boys will be hosting Blackie for the first game of their total point series. The league title rests in the balance so all the team will be giving all they have for the big win.

The three County Central Queen contestants are now waiting with apprehension for the coming of the Valentine's Ball this Friday, Feb. 18, and the consequent crowning of "Snow Queen 1966". The three contestants are Kathy McNiven, Linda Holm and Norma Christensen. Your attendance will ensure the success of the evening.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Feb. 7th, 1966
Carmangay, Alta.

Editor, Vulcan Advocate.
Dear Sir:

I wish you would send a reporter down here to see if maybe a trained person could perhaps find the right questions to ask of the powers that be and maybe get some right answers to those questions. We feel the loss of a damn good nurse and no-one seems to be able to get at the bottom of why we can't get some action about it. There is no matron, shortage of good nurses and unrest at the hospital. If you need surgery and want your own doctor to do it you have to go all the way to Picture Butte to have it. Seems like the people in Picture Butte are more concerned about helping our good doctor serve his patients than they are here.

They had a good matron and top O.R. nurse here and fired her. I feel sorry for a lot of people in this situation. Certainly I feel sorry for the nurse and the patients; but has anyone thought about the doctor? It must be very difficult for him to see a good nurse, who could and would follow his orders, fired and then have to run all over the country in order to give the good care to them that he could be giving to them right here. Let's hope that he won't get fed up with all the nonsense and leave us.

Another thing, if we don't stop all this nonsense and we lose our hospital, how can we expect to keep our doctor here? Let's get this thing cleared up. If the board and administrator can't run the place let's replace them. Who would want the job? Let's find out . . . the hospital is vital to everyone here. I say if you make a mistake get a good eraser working, back up and take another good look at things and then full speed ahead.

Yours truly,
"Old Age Pensioner."

Editor, Vulcan Advocate. S
Dear Sir:

I have before me your Feb. 2nd. issue which carrier the outward attack on the Little Bow Municipal Hospital Board in the form of letters to the editor.

Instead of considering our representatives capabilities on the board we should be directing our attention to the fact that we live in a community having absurd individuals which have shown their entire community contribution in these letters to you.

Are you people humble enough to base opinions on gossip and really just how many of you realize the personnel problems that can evolve in a staff such as the Carmangay Hospital from just one "SORE" spot?

Each of you are proud of this small hospital and are concerned about keeping its doors open but how many would attend a public meeting on this case or volunteer your services on the board?

We must keep in mind that many great world powers have continued on temporarily without a leader and I'm certain that this capable board with a little support can find a more than adequate substitute for the individual in question.

In closing I state that this matter is not one concerning religion and it was certainly bad taste to associate this freedom with the dismissal.

Yours truly,
An Interested Party.

Editor, Vulcan Advocate.
Dear Sir:

It was interesting to read that some people do have the courage to take a stand on this issue of the dismissal of a nurse that was considered one if not the best nurse this hospital has ever had. One would like to hear both sides of the story and most people will agree that that is the only fair way to evaluate the situation. The nurse herself would like to hear all the facts I understand, and I can not for the life of me see why the hospital board has not tried to make it clear just why they took the stand and action that they took. It only leaves a person in the position of feeling that either the board thinks that it is none of our business (forgetting that they are on the board because we put them there) or else they think we are too stupid to understand the facts or else they have no real rhyme nor reason for their actions and are stalling us trying to figure out why they got this mess started in the first place.

We do not want our hospital destroyed by anyone or anything. Many good people are involved in trying to help the sick and many sick people and potentially sick people will feel the loss if for any reason this hospital should close. I hate rumors, I listen to facts. One rumor started that the present two young graduates were leaving unless Mrs. Minty were fired . . . it seems strange then to also hear that Mrs. Minty was fired and these two nurses are leaving anyway. If she was the cause of them leaving, why are they leaving now that she has been fired?

It seems to me that someone has bitten off more than they can chew and they can't seem to find a place to spit it out now.

I am surprised that more people have not written in to your paper and I also want to congratulate your fine paper for having the courage to get involved in this controversial affair.

Sincerely,
"Perplexed and Worried."

Editor, Vulcan Advocate.
Dear Sir:

It is time for us to sit up and take notice of what is going on around us in The Little Bow Hospital District.

The shortage of nurses is acute even in the cities and here in Carmangay the situation is always at least a problem. Yet, a nurse who has served so well and so long is fired without warning and the charge is that she is a "trouble-maker." That is a very loose charge as far as I am concerned and I for one would like an explanation of what it means in this case.

Does it mean that as matron she has had to correct the staff for mistakes? As a matron is that not her obligation? A nurse in charge is often unpopular because she has to enforce the rules of the hospital, but if she was slipshod in her performance of her duties and let things that were done wrong go un-noticed she would soon find herself in serious trouble with the administration.

In my opinion the main trouble is caused because this lady is such a good nurse and demanded top performance from everyone under her. We as patients are very thankful that she was of this nature because after all who could suffer if she wasn't? The standards of our hospital have been very high and we the patients have this fine nurse to thank for a very great portion of these high standards.

It is unbelievable that in this day and age and in this fine free country called Canada that a situation should arise where a person does not even have a hearing. Even a criminal gets a chance to defend himself.

This nurse is well known in the district and has nursed just about everyone. I have never heard one patient complain of her. She is kind, considerate and capable. I hope that the board is big enough and courageous enough to admit their mistake and try to rectify it.

Yours truly,
Saddened.

SMALL THINGS

The tendency, of human nature, is to despise small things. But GOD does not do so. The tiny seed produces a lovely flower; an acorn produces an oak: a humming bird's egg produces a stream-lined body of living colors. Mighty rivers have small beginnings: dew drops water the earth: snowflakes make up snowdrifts: and the small "beginning" can grow into a very large "ending". GOD'S creation is made up of small things.

Success is measured very often by business abilities: large enterprises in the social, political and religious worlds are looked upon as marks of success, but $ucce$$ does not spell success. We applaud the man who can produce the goods. We revel in large things.

Jesus realized the tendency of human nature to despise small things. That is why He said to an eager group of listeners. "Take heed ye despise not one of these little ones (children)." The disciples were like us. They had not learned the value of one of GOD'S little ones. Jesus called a little child unto them and set him in the midst of them. Small things were His handiwork. He knew the value of one little child, and He taught accordingly.

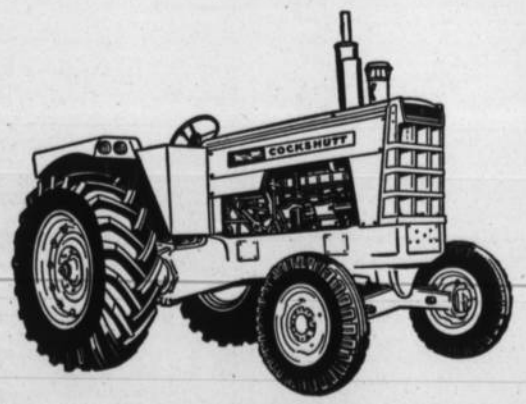

I trust each of us will have a deeper appreciation for the small things of life which really are most significant.

GREEN ACRES

BLAIR SHAW, District Agriculturist

This year's supply of the publication, Varieties of Grain for Alberta, is arriving. There are no changes to get excited about in this year's edition. The new varieties which are rated are Manitou Wheat, Conquest Barley, Harmon Oats and Noralta Flax.

Summarizing the information about these new varieties is quite simple as most are very much like commonly grown varieties. Manitou wheat is much like Canthatch or Thatcher in all respects except it is resistant to stem rust and matures a few days later than either Thatcher or Canthatch. The most advantage for Manitou would be on land where the danger of rust is more severe. This all boils down to the fact that there is no point in buying Manitou for commercial production until the price is a lot lower.

If you've picked this year to sow a sawfly resistant variety I would strongly recommend Cypress. Cypress has more sawfly resistance and shatters less than Chinook. As far as yield is concerned, both Cypress and Chinook will yield as well as Thatcher in dry years.

Palliser barley is still our best barley for this country, even better than the new Conquest variety. Conquest barley is well suited to the black soil zone, but is more susceptible to heat and drought, especially hot dry winds. For malting barley, Betzes should be the best for this area. The reason for choosing Betzes is three-fold. Firstly, Betzes is well suited for this area, secondly it is eligible for C.W. grades and thirdly it is not widely grown. The third reason is quite significant. Because of its previous record of short supply there will likely be a stronger demand for Betzes than for other varieties.

Harmon oats for those who might be interested, are very much like Rodney Oats, except they shatter less.

Turning for a while to cattle, the last issue of Facts, Figures and Comments from the Meat Packers Council had an interesting item on Cattle Outlook. Prof. R. G. Marshall, Department of Agricultural Economics, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, said, "Price-wise, the outlook for 1966 for the Canadian Cattle Producer can be viewed with some optimism." He based this guarded optimism on two main observations.

(1) Beef supplies in the U.S. are not expected to show a big change from the year just past and could very well be down slightly. Antipated high U.S. hog prices and higher consumer income will result in U.S. slaughter cattle prices averaging out as well as, if not better than through the last half of 1965, i.e. about $25 - $27 choice steers, Chicago.

(2) This U.S. outlook, if correct, would put a floor on Canadian slaughter cattle prices at or above price levels of the last half of 1965, regardless of how many cattle are marketed on this side of the border. Slaughter supplies will likely be on the short side relative to domestic needs in 1966.

Grain seems to really be on the move with the additional quota for some points. While the rest of us are waiting our turn I thought I'd bring up the problem of grain blowing from trucks on the way to the elevator. The fact that this causes weed problems is often brought up as a reason for having a good tarp or wind baffle. The thing which adds to this is the waste of grain which is "dough" in more than one way. I don't recall exactly how much grain can be lost at 40 mph, but it is a fantastic amount when you total up the number of trips.

Anyone who might want to try a wind baffle, can obtain plans from the office here in Vulcan.

NON-MEDICAL PEOPLE CANNOT DIAGNOSE

To diagnose, or find out the cause of an ailment requires more than intelligence. A medical education plus observational experience is needed.

PAIN OR DISCOMFORT RELIEF IMPORTANT

Sometimes a home remedy or non-prescription medicine helps. But, if such pains or discomforts keep returning, it is of greater importance to find out the cause. For pain is an urgent cry from your body-that something is wrong and it needs help.

THEN YOU SHOULD CONSULT A PHYSICIAN

Otherwise, a possibly easily cured ailment can gain a foothold and become a serious disease. A physician will check your medical history, give your body an adequate physical examination and study your symptoms. If still in doubt about the cause of your trouble, or to positively confirm his diagnosis, he may give some laboratory tests or require X-rays.

PHYSICIANS TREAT THE CAUSE

Self-treatments only try to relieve the pain or discomfort. That is why you usually will save much sickness-time and possible future harm by quickly consulting a physician about any recurring body problem.

MANY NEW MEDICINES ARE AVAILABLE

Your physician can prescribe the one he thinks will help you most. We stock them as soon as they are released for safe use.
